PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS

PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS

Namaskar Everyone!

A life well lived is not measured by the heights one reaches, it is defined by the courage to keep climbing, even after the peak. And yet, the truth is, there is no final destination. Each milestone only unfolds into another horizon, expanding endlessly into newer possibilities. Success, too, is not a trophy to be displayed but a flame to be carried forward. When one reaches a significant height, it is not just a moment of pride but a glimpse of grace, a realization that to continue this journey is to live in the realm of eternal exuberance. This very spirit of 'perseverance' and 'purpose' has nurtured this institution for more than seven decades. It has shaped lives, inspired minds, and continues to do so, because at Kirori Mal College, the journey never truly ends; it only grows in depth, in meaning, and in purpose.

Friends! Excellence is often celebrated in moments, but nurturing it with grace, consistency, and conviction is a rare art. At Kirori Mal College, this elusive ecstasy of sustained success has become a lived reality. Be it the spheres of academics, research, co-curriculars, or social impact, our college continues to ascend benchmarks with quiet confidence and collective determination. With each passing year, we don't just add to our achievements, we deepen our legacy and reaffirm our promise to every student who walks through these gates. Our presence in national rankings, accreditations, and surveys is not merely statistical; it is a reflection of the unwavering commitment of every member of this exceptional institution, a commitment that is renewed, with renewed vigour, with every passing year.

Our college has been ranked 4th in the NIRF 2025 college ranking. This milestone is a testament to the unwavering commitment, academic excellence, and the collective spirit of the students, faculty, staff and alumni. To be counted among the finest institutions in the nation is not merely an honour, it is a responsibility, a renewed calling to uphold the standards that brought us here. We carry this recognition not as a destination, but as a reminder of how much further we are capable of going.

Continuing our legacy of sporting excellence and collective determination, Kirori Mal College takes immense pride in announcing yet another year of remarkable achievements across arenas. Our students participated in 16 different sports in the Delhi University Inter-College Championships, winning 10 Gold/Championships, 06 Silver/Runner-up, 10 Bronze/3rd Place and 02 League/4th Place finishes.

Our Women's Basketball team clinched the DU Inter-College Championship title for the 1st time ever, while the Men's Basketball team retained their title for a record 13th consecutive time. Our Women's Badminton team secured the Inter-College Championship title for the consecutive 2nd time, while our Chess teams shone brightly, with the Men's team finishing 2nd and the Women's team securing 3rd place at the DUIC. Notably, Ojasva Singh captained the University of Delhi to the NZIU Chess Championship title for the 3rd consecutive year, a truly extraordinary achievement, following in the footsteps of Siddhant Jha (2024-25) and Samarth Mittal (2023-24), all proud Kirorians. In Boxing, Anushka and Ronit Tokas clinched Gold at the DUIC, also representing Delhi University at the All-India Inter-University Championships. In Athletics, Soyita Chand won Gold in 400m, Shobhit in 800m, Aryan Chaturvedi in 100m, and Chesta Goswami in High Jump at the DUIC, with Soyita Chand further earning a Silver in the 4x100m relay at the 40th Junior National Athletics Championship at Bhubaneswar, Odisha. Abhimanyu brought further glory by winning Gold at the DUIC Fencing Championship for the 2nd consecutive year, also representing the University at the All-India Inter-University level. At the International stage, Ojasva Singh participated in the Abu Dhabi Masters and Fujairah Global Chess Championship 2025, proudly carrying the KMC flag on the world stage. In Cricket, Manthan Tanwar represented Delhi University at the All-India Inter-University Championship at Rajkot and Kartikey Khajuria represented Delhi State U-19 in the Vinoo Mankad and Cooch Behar Trophy. We are equally proud of Savdeep Kadian, who represented Delhi in 12 different IGU National Golf Championships across the country, securing an overall national ranking of 50th. These landmark achievements not only reflect individual brilliance but also reaffirm our collective commitment to nurturing ambition, resilience, and sporting excellence.

We take equal pride in the academic distinctions earned by our students this year. Continuing our legacy of academic excellence and competitive distinctions, Kirori Mal College takes immense pride in announcing the stellar achievements of our students. Our heartfelt congratulations to Vikas (AIR 27), Nikita Verma (AIR 30), Ishitwa Anand (AIR 50), Hassan Khan (AIR 95), Calvin Ginminlien (AIR 134), Akarsh Kumar (AIR 524), Sahil Yadav (AIR 580), Raj Singh (AIR 729), Paras Bhatia (AIR 937) who have brought exceptional glory to Kirori Mal College by qualifying the prestigious UPSC Civil Services Examination 2025. These landmark achievements not only highlight individual brilliance but also reaffirm our collective commitment to nurturing ambition, resilience, and academic distinction.

Ladies and Gentlemen! In the line of drawing indelible stamps, our college also witnessed to be honoured by the thought-provoking presence of national figures like Hon'ble Chief Minister of Delhi Smt. Rekha Gupta, Hon'ble Former Chief Justice of India Shri Dhananjaya Yeshwant Chandrachud, and Shri Chirag Paswan, Cabinet Minister of Food Processing Industries, whose powerful addresses left a lasting impression. The seamless co-ordination among faculty, students, and administration has transformed teamwork from a practice into a culture, enabling us to constantly aim higher. In line with the narration of success stories the College has been writing every year, mention must not be left that, with all permanent appointments and no promotional case left pending, the faculty structure today reflects stability and readiness, a hallmark of an institution committed to academic and administrative excellence.

The College continued its cherished tradition by organizing the Annual Alumni Meet 2025, which received an enthusiastic response from former students across generations. Along with eminent alumni – Mr. Vijay Krishna Acharya (an acclaimed filmmaker), Mr. Sachin Badshah (IPS), and Mr. Sudhakar Singh (a noted educationalist), this event was also graced by the presence of Shri Pravesh Verma, Hon'ble Minister of Water, Government of Delhi, whose words of encouragement added warmth and strength to the occasion.

The Students' Union for the academic session 2025-26 also rejuvenated campus spirit by organizing the Annual Cultural Fest, Renaissance 2026, with grandeur and energy after years of anticipation. These memorable moments were prominently covered by the media, reaffirming the collective dedication of the KMC fraternity.

Friends! At Kirori Mal College, we do not confine ourselves to abstract ideals, we believe in translating vision into action and intent into infrastructure. One such defining moment of pride, the celebration of National Youth Day saw the inauguration of the Swami Vivekananda Complex and the unveiling of his statue, marking a truly significant milestone in the life of this institution. The occasion was graced by the Hon'ble Chief Minister of Delhi, Smt. Rekha Gupta, as the Chief Guest, whose presence lent the event a sense of historic occasion and renewed inspiration. As the nation celebrates 75 years since the adoption of the Indian Constitution on 26th November 1949, Kirori Mal College has taken yet another significant step in that direction. Following the establishment of the Ambedkar Study Circle, the college has dedicated its Seminar Hall as 'Dr. B. R. Ambedkar Sabhaghar' on 7th November 2025. I must acknowledge with gratitude the wholehearted co-operation of our faculty members and students, whose patience and co-ordination have been exemplary in bringing such moments to life.

And yet, our journey of building and becoming does not stop here, the renovation of the iconic Frank Thakur Das Memorial Auditorium continues to move forward with persistent follow-up and a shared spirit of revival, and we are now heading towards the much-awaited inauguration of the Auditorium soon in time to come, a space that carries the legacy of legends like Mr. Amitabh Bachchan, Mr. Kulbhushan Kharbanda, Mr. Shakti Kapoor, Mr. K.K., Mr. Kabir Khan, Mr. Divyendu, Mr. Abhishek Banerjee, Mr. Siddharth, Ms. Sargun and many more other luminous alumni. The list is, rather say, endless. This is not just a renovation, it is a celebration of 'continuity', 'culture', and 'commitment'.

In our pursuit of excellence, research remains the soul of academic progression at Kirori Mal College. This year, we take immense pride in sharing that our faculty have produced 201 publications in Scopus indexed journals in 2025 to 2026 till date — a milestone that speaks volumes about the intellectual vitality and scholarly rigour that defines this institution. The initiatives introduced under the Principal Research Excellence Scheme (PRES) in 2025-26 have not only laid the foundation for a dynamic research culture but have also begun to bear remarkable results. I take this moment to congratulate all the faculty members and students who have contributed to our vibrant research landscape — whether through pioneering projects, celebrated publications, or pathbreaking patents. Inspired by the visionary guidance of the Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor of the University of Delhi, the College is also aligning with the University's commitment to experiential learning by continuing the Principal KMC Internship, echoing the spirit of the Vice-Chancellor Part-time Internship Programme. I am delighted to share that the College is now poised to also launch the 3rd cycle of KMC Research Projects and introduce theme-based interdisciplinary projects focusing on solving real-time institutional challenges. In 2025–26, nine research projects have been sanctioned under the scheme across diverse domains, including the sciences, humanities, languages, and commerce. These steps reaffirm our belief that meaningful research is not confined to laboratories and journals alone, but emerges also from our classrooms, corridors, and collective consciousness. With such resolute momentum, Kirori Mal College is scripting a future where knowledge creation goes hand in hand with societal transformation.

Friends! Alongside these applause-worthy achievements, a heartfelt salute to all Departments, Societies, Committees and Cells that, through conferences, talks, and countless unique and innovative initiatives, have enriched College life in every possible way, transforming the College premises into a hub of academic excellence and creative exuberance, sparkling with joy and lustre. Today, as we gather to reflect on another enriching year, let us carry forward this momentum and memory with pride and purpose. Kirori Mal College will always stand by you, not just in your successes, but in your pursuit of deeper 'meaning', 'integrity', and 'excellence'.

Wishing you all the very best for your journey ahead!

Jai Hind!

Jai Bharat!

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE

Teacher-In-Charge: Ms. Shikha Jain | Staff Advisors: Prof. Mamta Sareen, Ms. Geetanjali Kher

The Department of Computer Science at Kirori Mal College continues to maintain a commendable balance between academic rigour and practical exposure. It provides students with multiple avenues for growth — not merely as learners, but as independent thinkers, innovators, and contributors to a rapidly evolving technological landscape.

The Computer Prodigies plays a central and indispensable role in shaping this ecosystem. By organising a diverse range of events throughout the academic year, the society ensures that students are consistently exposed to new ideas, emerging perspectives, and professional opportunities.

The following are the events held in the academic year 2025-26:

1. Fresher's Orientation

The academic session commenced with a well-structured and interactive Orientation Programme, designed to facilitate a smooth transition for incoming students into the academic environment of the department.

The session introduced students to the following:

- The overall course structure, academic expectations, and evaluation framework
- Opportunities available for internships, research projects, and technical skill development
- The functioning, objectives, and modes of participation within TCP

A distinguishing feature of the orientation was the informal and open interaction with senior students, which helped establish a sense of familiarity, comfort, and academic camaraderie among the new cohort at an early stage.

2. Tech Talks 2025

Tech Talks 2025 served as a meaningful academic bridge between conceptual learning and practical application. The sessions were thoughtfully structured not merely to inform participants, but to encourage critical inquiry and independent thinking.

Key thematic areas addressed during the sessions included:

- Cybersecurity: Real-world examples of data breaches, threat landscapes, and preventive practices applicable in everyday digital environments.
- Artificial Intelligence: Examination of how AI is being actively deployed across sectors such as finance, healthcare, logistics, and automation.
- Entrepreneurship and Innovation: Perspectives on risk-taking, problem identification, and the start-up ecosystem.

Speakers shared personal professional experiences, offering students a grounded and realistic perspective on career trajectories and industry challenges. Interactive Q&A sessions further facilitated concept clarification and enhanced participant confidence.

3. Tech Seminar: "Classroom to Boardroom – The Feminist Journey"

This seminar introduced a significant and necessary shift in perspective by addressing themes of personal leadership, professional growth, and social inclusivity — topics that are intrinsically connected to a holistic education.

Rather than functioning as a purely informational session, the seminar prioritised reflection, dialogue, and shared experience. The key areas explored included:

- The transition from academic environments to professional spaces and the unique challenges.
- Gender bias, underrepresentation, and the societal expectations that affect women in academic and professional contexts.
- The role of mentorship, confidence, resilience, and support networks in enabling effective leadership.

The use of real-life examples rendered the discussion highly relatable, while the open-forum format allowed students to articulate their thoughts and experiences with candour. The session effectively demonstrated that technical education and social awareness are not mutually exclusive but deeply complementary.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS

Teacher-In-Charge: Prof. Krishna Kamal Halder | Staff Advisor: Dr. Prikshit Gautam

Founded in 1956, the Department of Physics was established with a mission to explore the world through the lens of scientific inquiry. The department has worked to inspire students' passion for physics and research. Its core objective is to provide students with a well-rounded education in both theoretical and experimental physics and prepare students for research, academia, and industry. Through hands-on experiments, expert talks, and thought-provoking seminars, students are engaged in the discovery process. The annual fest, namely NEWTONIAN, serves as a celebration of innovation and the academic community. Looking to the future, the department aims to expand its research initiatives and empower students to make meaningful contributions to scientific progress and innovation.

Major highlights :

Fresher's Festum 2025 - Songs, dance, a guitar act, games, and a Ramp Walk where freshers got up and owned the room.

Skywatch Event - Nine models across campus, each a different stage of cosmic history. Around 200 students came through the day. When the sun went down, telescopes came out, the Moon and Saturn were witnessed through the telescopes.

Lunar Carnival at Nehru Planetarium - Lunar Carnival at Nehru Planetarium: A partnership between the club & Nehru Planetarium, students managed telescope queues for hundreds of visitors, and ran science games alongside so it wasn't just a passive event but actively engaging for the participants.

Novus 2025 - ESP-32 talk by Mr. Pawan Kumar, a Robotics Quiz, then Circuit-O-Madness : debug a circuit, build a wooden stick bridge, hang weights until it collapses. Whoever's bridge lasted longest, won.

Educational Visit to National Physics Laboratory - 29 students visiting India's National Metrology Institute, labs covering Mass Calibration, Thermal Standards, Acoustics, and Nanomaterials. The Q&A with researchers at the end was the best part.

Educational Visit to BrahMos Aerospace - Officials walked students through propulsion, aerodynamics, guidance systems, and embedded technology. It was classroom physics meeting the industry professionals who actually use it to build technologies

Aurora 2025 Exhibition - It was a Fine Arts event, but the astronomy club showed up with student astrophotography : star trails, sunspots, macro work. The team explained the science behind each shot to visitors with zero prior background.

Tachyons, the Physics Seminar Society of Kirori Mal College had a pretty packed year. From seminars & workshops to public outreach works, it's been one of the more active years the society has seen, with events running from August all the way through February and bringing in students from outside KMC's own campus.

August 22, 2025 :

National Space Day Celebration

The event attracted students from across 21 colleges. It opened up with a talk, delivered by Dr. Suprit Singh from IIT Delhi, "How Astronomy Has Transformed Human Insight & Ability," and 138 people stayed through towards the end of the event.

From there the event split into competitions. The Astronomy Quiz, run by KMC's Quriosity Society, had 45 teams competing against each other, with Sri Venkateswara College eventually taking the first position. There was also, "Celestia Wired," where teams had to build glowing constellation models out of LEDs and wires. KMC's own Team Aakashganga won that event. The day ended with the Rocketry Challenge: hydro-powered rockets, teams scrambling, general chaos in the best way.

September 9, 2025 :

An inter-college team presented their work on extra-tidal regions in the galactic globular clusters, focusing on NGC 6388 and its structural peculiarities.

September 29, 2025 :

Skywatch 3.0: Big Bang to Present

The event is conducted by the club annually, but this edition was probably the most ambitious version yet. Nine physical models were set up across the campus, each one representing a different stage of cosmic history, from the early universe right through to the conditions that allowed life to form. It wasn't just a display though; the stalls were interactive, covering spacetime, stellar evolution, etc.

Around 200 students came through the event during the day. In the evening, telescopes were brought out and participants saw the actual views of the Moon and Saturn.

Lunar Carnival at Nehru Planetarium

A total lunar eclipse visible from Delhi doesn't come around that often, so when the window opened, the club partnered with the Nehru Planetarium to utilise that opportunity. Volunteers managed public telescope queues for what turned out to be hundreds of visitors, from families to school groups and random enthusiasts who showed up to participate in the event. To keep things from being purely passive, the club ran a set of science-based games alongside the viewing, that focused on eclipse phases and basic celestial mechanics.

The Documentary Screening

Biocenose, The zoological society of Kirori Mal College, University of Delhi organise The Documentary Screening on 21st February 2026 in ZL-3 at 10:30 am

For over 160 million years, dinosaurs ruled the Earth. Emerging around 230 million years ago, they evolved into diverse and powerful species that dominated land, sea, and sky. From massive long-necked herbivores to fierce predators like Tyrannosaurus rex, dinosaurs adapted to changing climates and shifting continents, becoming the most successful kingdom in Earth's history.

But 66 million years ago, everything changed. A colossal asteroid struck the planet, unleashing earthquakes, wildfires, and a cloud of debris that blocked sunlight. Temperatures dropped, plants died, and food chains collapsed. Nearly 75 percent of all species vanished, including most dinosaurs. Yet life endured. Small mammals survived in the shadows and began to flourish in the altered world. Over millions of years, they diversified, eventually leading to the rise of humans. The fall of the dinosaurs was not just an end, it was a turning point in the ever-evolving story of life on our planet. Even today, the legacy of dinosaurs lives on. Modern birds are their closest surviving descendants, carrying forward traits that first evolved millions of years ago. Fossils buried deep within the Earth continue to reveal new discoveries, reminding us that extinction is not the end of life's story, but a chapter in its ongoing evolution.

A Living Laboratory: Zoology Students Document Behavioral Diversity at the National Zoological Park

On the clear afternoon of February 19, 2026, the Department of Zoology orchestrated an insightful field excursion to the National Zoological Park in New Delhi, providing students with a direct window into the complexities of animal behavior. Under the expert guidance of Dr. P. Pushpa Devi and Dr. Haren Ram Chiary, a total of 48 students gathered at the entrance, having reached the venue via their own conveyance.

The primary objective of the visit was the meticulous recording of ethograms, a fundamental practice in ethology used to inventory the behavior of a species. To facilitate this, the students were organized into focused groups of five, each assigned to monitor specific charismatic megafauna and key species within the park's expansive enclosures. The focal points of these observations included the majestic Royal Bengal Tiger and the rare White Tiger, alongside the Sloth Bear, Elephant, Asiatic Lion, Rhinoceros, Hippopotamus, and the agile Leopard. The study also extended to the plains-dwelling Black Buck and the Ostrich, allowing the participants to document diverse survival strategies across different taxa. Beyond the structured ethogram tasks, the students encountered a rich tapestry of other fauna, including various crocodilians, turtles, and a vibrant array of water birds inhabiting the park's wetlands.

Observations were also made of smaller mammals and several varieties of deer, including the ubiquitous Nilgai, which offered a comprehensive overview of regional biodiversity. The intensive two-hour visit concluded at 2:15 pm, as all 48 students reconvened at the exit point for a final attendance call. With their notebooks filled with behavioral data and practical insights, the group departed the premises to return to college, marking the successful completion of a productive day of field-based learning.

Upcoming Events

Biocenose: The Zoological society is set to organize a butterfly walk in the month of march. Butterflies are delicate yet ecologically important insects belonging to the order Lepidoptera. Beyond their beauty, they play a vital role as pollinators, helping plants reproduce, and serve as bio-indicators, reflecting the health of an ecosystem.

Ethical observation will be taken during butterfly studies. Butterflies should not be caught or disturbed. Observers must avoid damaging plants, especially host plants where eggs or caterpillars may be present. Responsible observation ensures conservation and minimal habitat disruption. Photography plays an important role in documentation, allowing species to be recorded without harm. Maintaining a record of species names and numbers helps in understanding biodiversity patterns and contributes to ecological awareness.

Butterfly observation not only enhances scientific knowledge but also fosters appreciation for nature and the importance of conserving our fragile ecosystems.

Ecdysis: The annual fest

Biocenose, the esteemed Zoological Society of the college, is gearing up to host its flagship annual fest, Ecdysis in month of march. Much like the biological process it is named after—where an organism sheds its old exoskeleton to make way for new growth—this fest promises to be a transformative experience for students. The upcoming edition of the fest will feature a curated mix of competitions that cater to both the creative and the analytical Artists will pick up their charcoal and pencils to bring biological intricacies to life. Participants will be tasked with capturing the raw beauty of wildlife or the complex anatomy of various species, blending scientific accuracy with artistic flair.

In a quest to celebrate the "invisible" world, this event will showcase the stunning hidden patterns found under the lens. It's where technology meets biology, highlighting the aesthetic side of cellular structures and microorganisms. The highlight of the fest will be an enlightening session by a renowned zoologist. This keynote address will provide students with a rare opportunity to engage with cutting-edge research and gain insights into the evolving landscape of biological sciences. "Ecdysis isn't just a fest; it's a celebration of life at its most fundamental level. We are creating a space where curiosity meets creativity."

Society Annual Report (2025–26)

The academic session 2025–26 marked yet another remarkable chapter in the journey of Sensation, the college’s official dance society. Rooted in passion and driven by creativity, the society continued to uphold its legacy of excellence while embracing new talent and fresh perspectives.

The year commenced with an engaging and high-spirited orientation session, designed to introduce freshers to the ethos, vision, and vibrant culture of Sensation. The orientation served as more than just an introduction—it was an invitation into a space where discipline meets creativity and where dancers find not just a stage, but a sense of belonging. Senior members shared their experiences, offered insights into the society’s journey, and inspired newcomers to become a part of this ever-evolving artistic family.

Following the orientation, auditions were conducted with great enthusiasm and participation. Students from diverse backgrounds came forward to showcase their talent across multiple dance styles, including hip-hop, contemporary, jazz, freestyle, and classical. The selection process was rigorous yet encouraging, focusing not only on technical skill but also on stage presence, adaptability, and passion for dance. The final team that emerged was a blend of experienced performers and promising newcomers, united by their dedication and willingness to grow.

With the team in place, the society transitioned into an intense phase of training and rehearsals. Choreographies were conceptualized and refined through collaborative efforts, allowing members to experiment with new ideas and push their creative boundaries. The practice space became a hub of energy, where every step, every movement, and every formation was carefully crafted to achieve perfection.

In addition to routine rehearsals, the society organized several workshops aimed at enhancing the technical and artistic abilities of its members. These sessions provided valuable exposure to different techniques and perspectives, enabling dancers to evolve and refine their individual styles.

A significant aspect of Sensation's journey this year was its active participation in the competitive circuit. The society represented the college in numerous inter-college competitions, consistently delivering performances that were both powerful and memorable. Each competition brought with it new challenges, but the team approached them with confidence, determination, and a strong sense of unity. Their efforts were met with appreciation and recognition, further strengthening the society's reputation.

Beyond the city, Sensation also expanded its horizons by participating in outstation competitions, stepping onto larger platforms and engaging with a broader artistic community. The journeys to these competitions, filled with rehearsals, travel, and shared moments, became memories that strengthened the bond within the team.

Throughout the year, Sensation remained an integral part of the college's cultural landscape. The society delivered captivating performances at various college events, including annual celebrations and official functions. Among these, the performance at Founder's Day stood out as a significant highlight, where the team showcased a well-coordinated and impactful act that was widely appreciated by the audience and faculty alike. These performances not only reflected the society's technical excellence but also its ability to connect with audiences on an emotional level.

As the academic year drew to a close, Sensation stood stronger than ever, having not only achieved milestones but also created a space where passion and perseverance translated into meaningful experiences. The journey was not merely about performances or competitions, but about growth, resilience, and the bonds formed along the way.

In essence, the year 2025–26 was a celebration of dance, dedication, and collective spirit for Sensation. With each step forward, the society continues to evolve, carrying forward its legacy while striving for greater heights in the years to come.

BHOOMI: THE ECO CLUB

Convenor: Prof. Vandana Chaudhary

Neela Hauz and Sanjay Van Visit (13th February 2026)

The club organised a visit to Sanjay Van, a part of the south/central ridge of Delhi. It is an area that is under tremendous pressure due to increasing urbanisation. To protect and develop this heritage into a green belt, the DDA in the 1970s carved out this area now called Sanjay Van. The first stop of the visit was the Neela Hauz Lake; it is in this spot that the team spotted many birds, such as the red-wattled lapwing, the house sparrow (Passer domesticus), etc. They also observed many plantations planted by DDA. The team gradually reached Sanjay Van, which is now used as a picnic spot by families. The trip proved to be very educational. With the members learning about why this area is sensitive, it was a great way of connecting with nature.

Hydroponics Workshop (16th February 2026)

The workshop commenced at the botany lab-2, where the two faculty members, Renu Ma'am and Leena Ma'am, explained the workings of hydroponics through a well-illustrated PPT. Afterwards, the participants were taken to the Hydroponics Unit, behind the science block of the college, where they were given a practical on how plants actually grow without soil and how they require a relatively lower temperature. Overall, the workshop was very informative and interesting as well, and organising these types of workshops is a great way to promote awareness about lesser-known ways of environmental awareness.

The event aimed to inspire responsibility, sustainability, and collective action toward environmental conservation.

CHILD RIGHTS AND YOU CRY KMC

Convenor: Dr. Jyoti Kasana

Child Rights and You (CRY KMC) is a passionate, student-driven society rooted in the belief that every child deserves a life of dignity, opportunity, and joy. For over three years, we have stood at the intersection of youthful idealism and purposeful action, transforming empathy into tangible, lasting change for the children in our communities.

Our Pillars:

- Compassion: We lead with our hearts, ensuring every initiative is rooted in genuine care for the children we serve.
- Commitment: We show up, consistently and passionately, because real change demands sustained effort.
- Collective Action: We believe that when young people unite around a shared purpose, no challenge is too great.

We truly believe "Education is not a privilege. It is a fundamental right."

Issues We Champion:

CRY KMC is not just a society; it is a voice. We actively raise awareness on some of the most pressing issues affecting India's children, including:

- The impact of the Union Budget on child welfare and the allocation of resources toward education, health, and protection.
- The urgent need to eradicate child labour in all its forms, restoring childhoods stolen by poverty and exploitation.
- The alarming effects of Delhi's rising pollution on children's health, development, and quality of life.
- Access to quality education, health awareness, and safeguarding children from abuse and neglect.

Through impactful campaigns and drives, we ensure that these children are never invisible to policymakers, to society, or to themselves.

Society Initiatives :

Donation Drive: On 2nd October, 2025, we organised a donation drive and visited an NGO to spend time with underprivileged children. The initiative focused on meaningful interaction and supporting their education by distributing books and stationery, with the aim of encouraging learning and creating a positive experience for them. We engaged with the children through conversations and small activities, making the visit enjoyable, interactive, and full of warmth. Distributing educational materials and seeing their enthusiasm and smiles made the experience especially fulfilling. It became one of the most memorable moments because it showed us how simple efforts and genuine interaction can positively contribute to a child's learning, confidence, and happiness.

Bake for CRY: Sweetness with a Soul

What began as a simple fundraiser has over the years blossomed into one of CRY KMC's most beloved and impactful traditions. Bake for CRY is far more than the sum of its treats, it is an annual celebration of purpose, warmth, and the extraordinary power of small acts of kindness.

Every year, our volunteers partner with local bakeries to curate beautiful boxes of muffins, brownies, cookies. Armed with these boxes and wide smiles, our team walks through Connaught Place, Delhi's iconic beating heart, and reaches out to passersby, families, and anyone willing to pause and be part of something beautiful.

Bake for Cry is about the conversations sparked on street corners, the stories exchanged between strangers, and the simple, profound reminder that generosity can take the sweetest of forms. Every box sold channels 100% of its proceeds directly to CRY India, funding education, healthcare, and protection for thousands of underprivileged children across the country.

TARA: Where Creativity Meets Compassion

TARA is CRY KMC's flagship event a vibrant fusion of intellectual challenge, collaborative engagement, and social impact. Planned for mid-April, the event aims to bring together creativity and compassion through activities that encourage both participation and awareness. This year we are planning to organize a case competition, a debate competition, and a donation drive as part of the event.

Through these activities, TARA is intended to create a platform where participants can share ideas, think critically, and contribute towards a meaningful cause at the same time. The event reflects the spirit of combining learning, teamwork, and social responsibility in an engaging way.

Why CRY KMC is Different:

At CRY KMC, we do not merely run events we build relationships. With the children we serve. With each other. With society. We are a family bound not by obligation but by a shared vision of a world where no child's potential is squandered by circumstance.

PATHIK

Convenor: Dr. Shravan Kumar

Pathik: The Heritage Walk & Cultural Society is a vibrant student-led initiative founded in September 2024 by passionate undergraduates from the History Department at Kirori Mal College, University of Delhi. With the vision to transcend traditional classrooms and transform history from static textbooks into immersive, experiential journeys, Pathik invites participants to "walk through time."

Pathik's core goal is to make historical learning alive and accessible, fostering a deeper appreciation for India's rich heritage. Its objectives include, organizing guided heritage walks to iconic sites like Humayun's Tomb, Tughlaqabad Fort, Qutub Complex, Lodhi Garden, and Purana Qila in Delhi. Extending explorations to prominent destinations such as Agra, Fatehpur Sikri, and the ancient Indus Valley site of Rakhigarhi in Haryana. Educating students on architectural marvels, cultural narratives, and historical contexts. Raising awareness for the conservation and preservation of these invaluable heritage sites. Through interactive walks, storytelling sessions, and community engagement, Pathik empowers young minds to become custodians of history, blending education, adventure, and activism.

Orientation Walk to Lodhi Garden

The orientation walk to Lodhi Garden on August 23, 2025, marked an engaging introduction to the activities and vision of Pathik, the Heritage Walk & Cultural Society. The session commenced with an address by Saniya, who articulated the society's aim of extending historical learning beyond the classroom through experiential engagement. By emphasizing heritage walks and cultural explorations as pedagogical tools, the introduction outlined Pathik's core objectives—promoting awareness of architectural heritage, situating monuments within their historical contexts, and fostering a sense of responsibility towards conservation. References to earlier initiatives, such as the Rakhigarhi excursion and the Qutub Complex walk, served to contextualize the society's evolving trajectory and inspire new members.

This was followed by remarks from Vice-Presidents Harsh Soni and Pawan, who introduced the core team and reflected on the society's development since its establishment in October 2024. The presence of Dr. Shravan Kumar and Dr. Dushyant Kumar Shah added academic depth to the event, as both encouraged students to actively engage with and preserve cultural heritage. The walk itself, led by student guides Yashasvi, Nimija, Mudit, Yashraj, and Krishika, covered significant monuments within the garden, including Muhammad Shah's Tomb, Bada Gumbad, Sheesh Gumbad, Sikandar Lodi's Tomb, and the Athpula Bridge. Through detailed explanations, storytelling, and interactive discussions, the walk transformed the site into a dynamic learning space, enabling participants to engage critically with Delhi's layered past.

Purana Qila Heritage Walk

On September 30, 2025, Pathik organised a heritage walk to Purana Qila, offering participants an in-depth exploration of one of Delhi's most historically significant sites. Located along the Yamuna River, the fort is associated with the establishment of Dinpanah by Humayun in 1533 as a planned imperial capital. The site later came under the control of Sher Shah Suri in 1540, who transformed it into what is now known as Purana Qila. A key structure within the complex, the Sher Mandal, holds particular historical significance as the location where Humayun is believed to have died following a fall. The walk included detailed engagement with prominent architectural features such as the Qila-i-Kuhna Mosque, noted for its refined arches and marble ornamentation; the royal hammam complex, which provided insights into courtly life and practices; and the Humayun Gate. Student guides contextualized these structures within broader political and cultural narratives, including the transition from Mughal to Suri rule and Humayun's eventual restoration. Discussions also addressed archaeological findings, such as Painted Grey Ware pottery, often linked to the ancient settlement of Indraprastha. The walk encouraged critical reflection on heritage conservation, particularly in the face of rapid urbanisation, thereby reinforcing the role of students as informed custodians of historical sites.

Agra & Fatehpur Sikri Heritage Trip

From November 8–9, 2025, Pathik organised a two-day educational trip to Agra and Fatehpur Sikri under the guidance of Prof. Firdos Anwar, a distinguished scholar of medieval Indian history. The trip aimed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of Mughal architecture, political ideology, and cultural synthesis. Through guided discussions, Prof. Anwar highlighted the intentions and symbolism embedded within these monumental spaces, enabling students to critically interpret their historical contexts.

In Agra, participants visited the Taj Mahal, widely regarded as an architectural masterpiece commissioned by Shah Jahan in memory of Mumtaz Mahal. The exploration extended to the Agra Fort, where the interplay of military architecture and royal residence was examined. The journey continued to Fatehpur Sikri, the short-lived capital established by Akbar, where participants studied key structures such as the Buland Darwaza, Panch Mahal, and the Tomb of Salim Chishti. These monuments illustrated a synthesis of Persian and indigenous architectural elements, including domes, arches, chhatris, and intricate jaali work.

Mehrauli Archaeological Park Walk

The Mehrauli Archaeological Park served as the site of a heritage walk organised by Pathik. The Heritage Walk and Cultural Society of Kirori Mal College on 22nd of March, 2026. The event opened with introductory remarks by Saniya Bhatt, President of Pathik, who underscored the pedagogical value of engaging with historical landscapes beyond the classroom. The group was accompanied by Dr. Dushyant Kumar Shah, co-convenor of Pathik.

The walk focused on four major monuments within the park. The first site, Jamali Kamali Mosque and Tomb, Saniya contextualised the monument within the broader framework of Sufi traditions in the late Delhi Sultanate period. She elaborated on the figure of Jamali as both a poet and a mystic, while also noting the historiographical ambiguities surrounding Kamali. The Balban's Tomb complex was discussed by Chaitanya. His presentation highlighted the architectural significance of the structure.

The discussion at the Metcalfe House Complex was led by Jyotsna, who examined the colonial reinterpretation of pre-existing Mughal structures. Particular attention was given to Quli Khan's Tomb and its adaptive reuse under British patronage. She especially highlighted the constant suspicion between Quli Khan and Metcalf. The final stop, Rajon Ki Baoli, was presented by Bhumika, who analysed the history of baoli as a social space embedded in medieval urban life.

Overall, the walk provided a layered understanding of the site, combining architectural analysis with historical interpretation through the contributions of the student orators.

Rakhigarhi Excursion 2026

On 7th April 2026, a field visit to Rakhigarhi, organised by Pathik, the Heritage Walk and Cultural Society of Kirori Mal College in collaboration with the Archaeological Department of Haryana, unfolded as an immersive encounter with one of the most expansive urban centres of the Indus Valley Civilization. Situated in the Hisar district of Haryana and spread across nearly 500 hectares, the site exists, lying beneath the living settlements of Rakhi Shahpur and Rakhi Khas. Dr. Appu Saharan, an archaeologist and local guide associated with the Department of archeology guided us through the mounds, disseminating information about the site to us. The group of 76 students were accompanied by Dr. Shravan Kumar, convener of Pathik, Dr. Dushyant Kumar Shah, co-convener of Pathik and Dr. Prabhat Kumar.

The spatial organisation of Rakhigarhi, marked by a series of mounds (RGR-I to RGR-XI) located near the Drishadvati river, gestures toward a complex and well-planned urban settlement. Excavations at Mound I, carried out under Amrendra Nath and later Sanjay Kumar Manjul, revealed a dense concentration of artefacts including beads, semi-precious stones, terracotta toys, stone ornaments, and copper tools. These findings suggest that this part of the settlement functioned as a centre of craft production, highlighting the specialised and organised economic life of the Harappans. The presence of such material culture not only reflects technological skill but also indicates participation in wider networks of exchange.

केंद्रीय स्तर पर शिक्षा मंत्रालय द्वारा भारतीय भाषा समिति का गठन , राष्ट्रीय शिक्षा नीति - 2020 के क्रियान्वयन के फलस्वरूप हुआ, जिसका मुख्य उद्देश्य भारत की भाषाओं का संरक्षण एवं संवर्धन करना है। इसी के आधार पर किरोड़ीमल कॉलेज ने भी हिंदी की वृद्धि और विकास के लिए भारतीय भाषा समिति का गठन किया है। किरोड़ीमल कॉलेज की भारतीय भाषा समिति सक्रिय रूप से कॉलेज में आये हुए सभी विद्यार्थियों के बीच परस्पर रूप से क्षेत्रीय एवं स्थानीय बोलियों को बढ़ावा देती है। मातृभाषा के प्रयोग के लिए विद्यार्थियों को प्रोत्साहित करती है। मातृभाषा के प्रयोग से विद्यार्थियों में आश्चर्यजनक रूप से बौद्धिक प्रतिभा का विकास होता है। सभी भारतीय भाषाओं के विकास के लिए समिति निरंतर सेमिनार, कार्यशाला, भाषण एवं लोक गीत प्रतियोगिता आदि आयोजित करती है।

भारतीय भाषा समिति, किरोड़ीमल एवं मैथिली-भोजपुरी अकादमी, दिल्ली अंतर्राष्ट्रीय मातृभाषा दिवस के उपलक्ष्य में आयोजित राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी
विषय - “विकसित भारत में भारतीय भाषाएँ”

कार्यक्रम रिपोर्ट

20, फरवरी 2026 को भारतीय भाषा समिति, किरोड़ीमल महाविद्यालय एवं मैथिली-भोजपुरी, अकादमी, दिल्ली के तत्वावधान में अंतर्राष्ट्रीय मातृभाषा दिवस के उपलक्ष्य में “विकसित भारत में भारतीय भाषाएँ” विषय पर किरोड़ीमल महाविद्यालय के डॉ० बी० आर० अंबेडकर सभागार में एक राष्ट्रीय संगोष्ठी का आयोजन किया गया। इस संगोष्ठी का सुनियोजित संचालन एवं संयोजन डॉ० विनय गुप्ता, सह -संयोजक डॉ० ऋतु वाष्णीय गुप्ता द्वारा किया गया, जिसकी अध्यक्षता प्राचार्य प्रो० दिनेश खट्टर द्वारा की गई। कार्यक्रम में मुख्य वक्ता के रूप में प्रो० रंजन कुमार त्रिपाठी, अधिष्ठाता, छात्र कल्याण, दिल्ली विश्वविद्यालय एवं प्रो० बदना झा, अध्यक्ष, भारतीय भाषा केंद्र, जवाहरलाल नेहरू विश्वविद्यालय व विशिष्ट वक्ता के रूप में डॉ० राजेश्वर कुमार, राष्ट्रीय सह-संयोजक, शिक्षा संस्कृति उत्थान न्यास, बी० आर० ए० बिहार विश्वविद्यालय, मुज़फ्फरपुर एवं डॉ० ललित पाण्डेय, असिस्टेंट प्रोफ़ेसर, संस्कृत विभाग, किरोड़ीमल महाविद्यालय मौजूद रहे।

दीप प्रज्वलन व सरस्वती वंदना के पश्चात डॉ० विनय कुमार गुप्ता द्वारा कार्यक्रम की औपचारिक शुरुआत की गई। तत्पश्चात प्राचार्य प्रो० दिनेश खट्टर द्वारा सम्बोधन वक्तव्य दिया गया, जिसमें उन्होंने विकसित भारत में भारतीय भाषाओं के महत्व को उजागर कर उन्हें सँजोये रखने व उनसे जुड़े रहने के लिए श्रोताओं को प्रेरित किया। उनके अनुसार विकसित भारत की आत्मा उसकी भाषाओं की विविधता है। उन्होंने युवाओं को अपनी मातृभाषा से जुड़े रहने का आग्रह किया और कहा कि, अपनी भाषाओं से प्रेम करना संकीर्णता नहीं गौरव है। तत्पश्चात कार्यक्रम के प्रथम सत्र के मुख्य वक्ता प्रो० रंजन कुमार त्रिपाठी द्वारा भारतीय भाषाओं का विकसित भारत में योगदान पर चर्चा की गई। उनके अनुसार, सभ्यतागत संवेदना का शाश्वत स्वरूप भारतीय भाषा की परंपरा है। भाषा में भेद भारत की संस्कृति में भेद है। जब भारत की भाषा से संवेदना, आदर्श, भारतबोध, धर्म का गौरव हट जाए तो भाषा; भाषा नहीं रहेगी।

प्रथम सत्र के विशिष्ट वक्ता के रूप में डॉ० राजेश्वर कुमार का वक्तव्य भारतीय भाषाओं की महत्ता व उनका विकसित भारत में स्थान पर आधारित था जिसमें उन्होंने श्रोताओं से विकसित भारत की चुनौतियों पर भी चर्चा की। उनका कहना था कि, आज के तथाकथित विकसित राष्ट्रों की राजभाषा व आम-बोलचाल की भाषा एक है परंतु पिछड़े राष्ट्रों की राज-काज की भाषा व आम-बोलचाल की भाषा में अंतर है। अतः हमें अपनी भाषा में उन्नति करने व उसे सँजोने की आवश्यकता है। भारत में लोकतंत्र तो है जो लोगों का, लोगों द्वारा, लोगों के लिए है परंतु उसी भारत में न्यायपालिका की भाषा आम-जन की भाषा न होकर अंग्रेजी है। उनके अनुसार आज के युग में ए.आई. को जानना जितना महत्वपूर्ण है, उससे कहीं ज्यादा महत्वपूर्ण ई.आई. (ईमोशनल इन्टेलिजेन्स) को जानना भी है।

कार्यक्रम के दूसरे सत्र के विशिष्ट वक्ता डॉ० ललित पाण्डेय द्वारा लोक-भाषा के सौन्दर्य की विभिन्न उद्घरणों से चर्चा की गई। उनके अनुसार भारतीय भाषाओं में विविधता ही भारत की एकता का सौन्दर्य है। चाहे कबीर की भाषा हो या तुलसीदास, रहीम, गुरु नानक की भाषा हो, सभी ने लोक में अपनी काव्यभिव्यक्ति लोकभाषा में की। प्राचीनकाल से आधुनिक काल तक लोक की भाषा को प्रमुखता दी गई है।

तत्पश्चात दूसरे सत्र की मुख्य वक्ता प्रो० वंदना झा द्वारा विकसित भारत में स्वदेशी के महत्त्व को उजागर किया गया। उन्होंने भारतीय संस्कृति को मूल्य आधारित बताया, जो कि पश्चिम की भौतिकवादी संस्कृति से भिन्न है। वे कहती हैं कि पाश्चात्य पहलुओं की जानकारी सभी को होनी चाहिए परंतु हमारा चिंतन स्वदेशी होना चाहिए। उनके अनुसार मनुष्य का पारिस्थितिकी तंत्र उसकी स्वभाषा द्वारा ही विकसित होता है। अतः भाषा को बांटना भारत को बांटने के समान है। जब चिंतन स्वदेशी होगा तो भाषा स्वदेशी क्यों नहीं होनी चाहिए। वे कहती हैं कि भारत का ज्ञान भारत की लोक-भाषाओं में निहित है। अतः पाठ्यक्रम को लोक-आधारित होना चाहिए क्योंकि भाषा संवर्धित करती है। भाषा तोड़ने का नहीं अपितु जोड़ने का काम करती है।

इस संगोष्ठी ने स्पष्ट किया कि भारतीय भाषाएँ केवल संप्रेषण का माध्यम नहीं, बल्कि भारत की सांस्कृतिक आत्मा हैं। विकसित भारत का भविष्य तभी सशक्त होगा जब उसकी भाषाई विविधता को संरक्षित और संवर्धित किया जाए।

कार्यक्रम के अंत में हिन्दी विभाग के सहायक आचार्य डॉ० आलोक रंजन द्वारा सभी वक्ताओं का सादर आभार प्रकट कर समापन वक्तव्य दिया गया।

LA VOICE: OFFICIAL E-NEWSLETTER OF KMC

Convenor : Dr. Satyendra Srivastava

La Voice, the student-driven bilingual official e-newsletter of Kirori Mal College, continues to function as a meaningful space of expression, communication, and documentation within the college community. La Voice serves to build a connection amongst the voices of KMC by sharing narratives that reflect their collective identities, making it more than a newsletter. It also fosters the institutions' environmental vision by promoting paperless communication. The newsletter acts both as an official record of monthly events organized by the societies across the college and as a creative archive. The bilingual nature of La Voice enhances inclusivity and reader engagement, making it a platform of innovation and entertainment for readers and writers alike.

In August 2025, La Voice conducted its recruitment process with enthusiastic participation from various departments across all academic years. Following the two rounds of selection, including the online test and personal interviews, the editorial and design teams were finalised. Thus far in the academic session, La Voice has published four editions: August, September, October, and November. Each issue featured faculty contributions, student achievements, society activities, and a diverse range of creative submissions, including poetry, short fiction, letters, personal essays, photo essays, and illustrations.

The August issue, themed First Steps into Tomorrow, marked the beginning of the academic year and encouraged students to reflect on the emotional landscape of the newfound independence and self-discovery through their first impressions of college life. The issue also focused on key events like the Orientation Ceremony for the incoming batch, the NEP seminar, and Independence Day celebrations. The August issue set a fresh and motivating tone for the rest of the academic year.

The September issue, Shades of Transition, explored the complex idea of the 'in-betweenness' visible in the shifting seasons, evolving identities, and the movement from adolescence to adulthood, which was received with enthusiastic participation from the students. Alongside creative entries, it documented society-led events and competitions that reinforced La Voice's function as an institutional chronicle.

Thereafter, October's theme, The Joy of Small Things, echoed the festive spirit on campus. Looking beyond grand celebrations, the issue emphasized the presence of small wins and intimate joys. The issue also witnessed the credentials of praiseworthy student achievements of MUSOC, the music society of the college, and FAPS, the Fine Arts and Photography Society, in various competitions conducted at Atrangini'25, the annual festival of IIT Kanpur. Additionally, the issue highlighted faculty achievements alongside their academic publications across various fields.

Other key themes of the newsletter included Letters to November for the November issue, which adopted an epistolary tone where contributors reflected on the quiet closure of the year, along with gratitude and memory. Entries received for this issue were sincere reflections of emotional dilemmas and overcoming the transformation. The November issue featured the UNESCO Literary Exhibition and the commencement of the Principal Internship Scheme. Academic and extracurricular activities remained in focus simultaneously.

Our upcoming issues for January and February feature the themes The Art of Letting Go and Conversations with Love, respectively. While the former attempts to align with the spirit of renewal that accompanies the new year, the latter aims to explore love beyond grand expressions, highlighting its presence in everyday routines and quiet moments.

Throughout the year, La Voice documented key society events, workshops, and external educational interactions organized by various cells and societies. The collaborative efforts of the team ensured punctual publications, thematic coherence, and careful curation of content. Members gained hands-on experience in editing, content management, design coordination, and communication, thereby enhancing their professional and creative skills. This year, La Voice enhanced its newsletter by incorporating additional societies and groups, including the Astronomy Club, Quiriosity, and Malang.

La Voice remains committed to encouraging student participation by providing a platform where voices are heard, ideas are fostered, and successes are celebrated. Moving ahead, the newsletter continues to be grateful for the collective efforts that have shaped the newsletter into a living and evolving archive of Kirori Mal College through its commitment to excellence in communication.

The play emphasized that Babasaheb Dr. Ambedkar was not just a leader of the lower castes or the Dalit community; rather, he championed the rights of women, labourers, minorities, and every marginalized section of society. His efforts were rooted in the belief that true democracy can thrive only when social, political, and economic justice is ensured for everyone.

Rights came from struggle, not from silence. If we forget our Constitution, injustice will grow. The play convinced students to speak, question, and stand for justice because the Constitution works only when people make it work. The play showed situations of discrimination, inequality, and injustice with Babasaheb Dr B.R. Ambedkar; as a result, it led to a strong sense of awareness among students about their rights.

THE LIBRARY COMMITTEE

Convenor : Dr. Vineeta

Dr. N.S. Pradhan Memorial Library, the library of Kirori Mal College, has long been a vital institution contributing significantly to the intellectual growth of both students and faculty. It was inaugurated on August 19, 1988, by the then Minister of Human Resource Development, Honourable Shri P. Shiv Shankar. Since its inception, the library has evolved into a cornerstone of academic life within the college.

The architecture of the library thoughtfully combines aesthetic appeal with functional design. It is not merely a repository of books but a dynamic space that fosters curiosity, learning, and intellectual exchange. Spread across two floors, the library is systematically organized into separate sections catering to different academic disciplines. It houses three well-equipped reading rooms that provide ample resources for students, along with dedicated spaces for faculty research. Over time, continuous efforts have been made to make the library a more inclusive and welcoming space by adopting disability-friendly infrastructure that caters to diverse user needs. This aligns with the broader vision of developing the library into an accessible, engaging, and resource-rich learning environment that supports academic excellence.

Open to readers from 9:00 AM to 5:30 PM, the library offers a wide variety of materials such as books, magazines, journals, and digital resources that cater to different interests and disciplines. Its collection is regularly updated to meet evolving academic requirements. In addition to contemporary materials, the library has preserved a rich collection of literature, documents, and archival records that reflect cultural and historical heritage. In an era marked by the rapid spread of information, not all of which is reliable, the library continues to stand as a trusted source of authentic and well-curated knowledge.

Efforts have also been directed toward improving the organization and accessibility of resources, while maintaining a comfortable and student-friendly environment for study and reflection. During examination periods, reading room hours are extended to provide students with safe and supportive study spaces. In line with the vision for the academic year, installation of CCTV cameras has been approved on each floor to ensure safety and security for all users.

Beyond its routine services, diligently managed by the library staff, the Library Committee has actively worked during the academic year 2025–26 to promote reading habits and enhance user engagement. Initiatives such as curated displays of newly acquired books and magazines have been introduced to encourage greater interaction with library resources. With the renewal of the Annual Maintenance Contract (AMC) for library software, the committee has also ensured the functionality of the local server. Faculty members have been informed about access to digital resources through the One Nation One Subscription (ONOS) initiative, further expanding research capabilities.

To support the requirements of original research under the newly introduced fourth-year undergraduate programme under NEP, the library, in collaboration with the IQAC, organized a training session on February 6, 2026, for faculty supervisors on the use of the plagiarism detection software Turnitin. This initiative reflects the library's commitment to promoting academic integrity and research excellence.

Looking ahead, the Library Committee envisions strengthening the role of the library as a vibrant and interactive learning space. The focus will remain on improving accessibility, encouraging active participation, and enhancing the overall user experience. The goal is to transform the library from a traditional reading space into a dynamic hub of knowledge, creativity, and collaboration. Through sustained efforts in service improvement, engagement initiatives, and skill development, the library aims to remain central to both academic achievement and holistic personal growth.
