PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS

PRINCIPAL'S ADDRESS

Namaskar!

After churning the human life for thousands of years, it has come to the notice of every human being now that the purpose of life is nothing but to achieve 'happiness' and 'happiness' only. A simple question arises here as to what is 'happiness' and how it is to be achieved. The answer to it is not very complex but not a fixed one either. Surprisingly though, it is fixed for each and every individual in a very distinct manner. Needless to say that every human being is a unique entity. If one is able to know, understand and realise this fact, one will be in sync with oneself. Then the result is nothing but harmony and peace resulting into 'happiness'. When this equation goes otherwise, the result is nothing but chaos and incoherence resulting into 'melancholy'.

Friends! I am proud to say that the purpose of life, which is ultimately 'happiness' is splendidly garnered, cultivated and finally achieved here at the premises of our beloved Kirori Mal College, which has been shaped by its faculty members, administered by its non-teaching staff and taken to the highest pinnacle of excellence by its alumni. Over the years, the College has evolved as one of the best Centres of Excellence in the whole country in all the dimensions of Teaching, Learning and Research. The NIRF Rank, The NAAC Accreditation and India Today Survey all have written on their leaflets which prove the same in utter grandeur and eloquence.

This institution of ours with 19 Departments, 7 Cultural, 16 Student Empowerment and 15 Institutional & Infrastructural Committees/Cells/Societies pays attention to exploring all possibilities which a student is likely to bear. With a sincere feeling of pride, I would like to state that hundreds of awards and honours have been achieved by our students in various competitions within the College premises and outside. Six of our students qualifying UPSC CSE 2022 is another mega achievement among whom Ms. Garima Lohia securing all India rank second brought matchless laurel to the College. In the field of Sports, Mr. Jaidev Dikka and Mr. Ojaswa Singh contributed in the superlative degree by representing India in the South Asian Junior Athletic Championship and participating in Abu Dhabi Masters 2023 respectively.

Friends! Our College is writing new chapters every day in consonance with its historical legacy and cultural heritage. Last year in CUET admissions, our own KMC has been the most preferred College as opted by 1,61, 533 students as their No. 1 choice among all Delhi University colleges.

Friends! The College has added a new chapter in its history by introducing The Annual Book 'Abhyutthanam: To Awake and Arise' from 2024 onwards under the priceless endeavours of the Annual Magazine Committee (AMCatKMC), the inaugural edition of which was launched on the Founder's Day of the College. To secure a solid, magnetic and contagious position at the social media platforms, the unflinching and indefatigable efforts of the Media Committee is exclamatory and undeniably commendable. In the current academic year, the College had organized many big events successfully like G20: Aikyam 1 & 2, History & Evolution of Vedic Mathematics, and Athlos'24: The KMC Mini Olympic. With all permanent faculty members and no pending promotion, the team work culture & coordination among the faculty members, the administration and the students has resulted into nothing but a matchless success resounding its effect all around.

With the gracious efforts of the Chairperson and the Governing Body members, I feel proud to announce the launch of the part-time paid internship programme 'Principal KMC Internship Scheme' abbreviated as PKIS for three months, offering 8 interns from four different College domains. In this Scheme, a stipend of Rs. 2400/- is given to each intern per month after the completion of 24 hours of work. Another very significant step our College has taken towards the research based output from it is the implementation of the Interdisciplinary KMC Research Projects in three categories – Experimental, Computational and Theoretical – for the faculty members for a duration of one year through Research and Innovation Fund of the College. Further, since the launch of new College website a year back, we have been able to continue advancing at multiple levels coping with the need of the hour. The ERP at the College Website is fully functional making every affair of the College accessible online.

Friends! Renovation is nothing but a way of looking at things and intending to improvise them in the best possible way to secure the past and make it live longer in the spheres of the future. Keeping this approach in mind, the College brought into existence the Renovated Staff Lounge and that too with a computer and printer facilities for all the staff members. The long pending project of the renovation of the College Auditorium has also got finalised with the efforts of many people in the past like Shri Amitabh Bachchan, Late Satish Kaushik and many others along with the Ministry of Culture which granted Rs. 6 Crore towards construction and renovation costs of the Auditorium. As a result, the ceremony of the Bhomi Poojan: the Laying of the Foundation of the Renovation of the Frank Thakuradas Memorial Auditorium became a reality on 9th March 2024 in the august presence of the Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor of the University of Delhi, Prof. Yogesh Singh. The College is on the go and it is committed in every way to bring life to everything which might be going down within the College premises.

The College organized its historical Annual Alumni Meet which witnessed the start of the renovation work of the Auditorium giving satisfaction to every member who have been assisting in the fund raising process for it. The College has also successful in forming the Student's Union last year, which organized the College Annual Fest, Renaissance 2024 in an outstanding manner after a gap of four years. In this way, the commitment of the entire College fraternity got very well reflected in the different newspapers throughout the year.

Today, we all stand here to celebrate all that we did in the past one year and create a memory which can only let us feel proud of our students.

Remember, the College will always feel proud if you are able to excavate the 'happiness' inscribed within your soul amidst all that you achieve in your life.

All the best for all the future endeavours!

A team led by the Kirori Mal College Principal, Prof. Dinesh Khattar, made a presentation at the Ministry of Culture in February 2024, which then awarded the college a financial grant of Rs. 6 crore for construction and renovation costs of the auditorium. The alumni contribution of Rs. 2.17 crore has also been enhanced to Rs. 4.35 crore through the grant of a matching amount released by the College Governing Body. Efforts to raise finances for the repair and renovation were made sporadically, but it is with Principal Prof. Dinesh Khattar at the helm that the task has been taken up with commitment and vigour.

This event at Kirori Mal College became a focal point of media attention, generating widespread coverage and appreciation across newspapers and online platforms alike.

New life, with old boys' help: KMC audi up for revamp

Shreya.Ghosh@timesgroup.com

New Delhi: The Kirori Mal College auditorium, where cinematic biggies such as Amitabh Bachchan, Satish Kaushik, Vijay Krishna Acharya cut their teeth, will get a fresh lease of life after being in a shambles for 15 years.

Built in 1954, the college auditorium will now undergo a renovation for which Delhi University vice-chancellor Yogesh Singh laid the foundation stone on Saturday.

The renovation, which would cost Rs 11 crore, has attracted a Rs 51 lakh donation from Bachchan and Rs 2.5 crore from other alumni. The ministry of culture has sanctioned Rs 6 crore. "We will not change the foundation design of the auditorium because of the of the heritage structure and sanctity of the alumni base," Dinesh Khattar, the principal, told TOI, adding that an alumni meeting, including Hindi film industry actors and bureaucrats, will be held on April 6 to discuss the matter.

In 2003, the auditorium roof began leaking. After small repairs, in 2005 an architect was asked to design a repair and renovation plan. However, no action was taken, and the auditorium continued sliding into disrepair. In 2010, unsafe. Entry was halted.

Numerous efforts, including two alumni meets – one in Delhi and another in Mumbai – kickstarted the fundraising campaign in 2016. Satish Kaushik was nominated as chairman of the KMC alumni executive committee to focus on bringing together the alumni working in the Mum-Cap team with Bachchan in Dec 2016.

WAITING FOR A SPRUCE-UP

A team led by the Kirori Mal College principal made a presentation at the ministry of culture in Feb 2024, which then awarded the college the grant. The contribution also rose to Rs. 4.35 crore through the grant by the college governing body.

The difference in enantiomers was explained wonderfully by the speaker taking examples from daily life. Thereafter the speaker moved on to explain the methods to separate enantiomers, the most common among them being chromatography. He also gave reasons for not using thin-layer chromatography and paper chromatography in the separation of enantiomers. He then explained the different chromatography methods viz. gas chromatography, high-pressure liquid chromatography, ion exchange chromatography, size exclusion chromatography, reversed-phase liquid chromatography, etc. He also put forth the concept of the Gaussian curve and its significance. Moreover, Prof. Singh delved into recent advancements in chirality-based research, showcasing its potential applications in drug design, asymmetric synthesis, and materials science. The audience was captivated by the prospects of harnessing chirality to develop novel therapeutics, enhance catalytic processes, and engineer advanced materials with tailored properties. He presented some of the experiments he performed in his lab including o-arylation vinalogous reaction. The lecture concluded with a stimulating Q&A session. Overall, the inaugural lecture served as an enlightening exploration for the newcomers, inspiring all attendees to further explore this captivating aspect of chemistry.

Under the aegis of the DBT Star College Scheme, the Department of Chemistry conducted an international webinar on 28th October 2023 at 2:30 p.m. The topic for the webinar was “Dye-sensitized Solar Cells: Materials, Mechanisms and Applications” delivered by Prof. Neil Robertson, School of Chemistry, University of Edinburgh, U.K. The resource person took over the platform and began with the discussion on dye-sensitized solar cells. He addressed that practical implementation of the "Internet of Things" has been relatively slow, in part because all of these edge devices draw electrical power from their local environment. To enhance the efficiency of IoT, photovoltaics is used to power devices and help bring the IoT to fruition. Talking about efficiency, he explained that we can mix different dyes which is called co-sensitization, and that direct contact of selective charge extraction layers enables high-efficiency molecular photovoltaics. The Department currently has roughly 180 students, comprising the batches of 2024, 2025 and 2026. The Department is active all around the year, organizing various activities to cater to the minds as well as to the overall personality development of the students, such as farewells and freshers, batch meets, students' union elections, alumni talks, etc. It organizes its flagship event, E(X)PECATIONS, every year, which includes various competitions like treasure hunts, quizzes, auctions and speaker sessions from experts in various fields.

The Department of Statistics, Kirori Mal College, is nothing short of a family for the students, which grows every year as new students join it. The warmth our teachers exude is incomparable, and it certainly fills the students to pursue excellence. The activities of the Department are a way to encourage the students to grow to their full potential, both academically and holistically. These experiences, backed by the unconditional support of the faculty are an asset to the students in their overall growth. Statistics forms an essential domain of research studies in every field. Students from science courses study statistics as a part of their curriculum, and many others take it up as an elective. As a long-term aim, the Department strives to extend the outreach of the subject to other departments and equip future researchers with this important tool of study, to aid our country with a brighter youth and future.

To achieve the expansion of the student's knowledge base, the Department of Statistics, Kirori Mal College, organizes a series of seminars throughout the year. These seminars serve as platforms for professionals from diverse fields to share their expertise and insights with the students and offer invaluable opportunities for students to explore various career paths and gain deeper insights into potential professional avenues. Among the topics covered are Actuarial Sciences, Biostatistics, and the Indian Statistical Service (ISS). In the academic year 2023-24, the Department conducted a seminar on Actuarial science on 8th November 2023 by Mr. Akshay Dhand, a Fellow at IAI and IFoA and Appointed Actuary at Canada HSBC Life. The session provided invaluable insights into career opportunities through Actuarial Science. Similarly, the seminar on Indian Statistical Services on 28th February 2024, conducted by Ms. Geeta Singh Rathore, Director General at NSS, covered the real-world approach of statistics by addressing various topics like MoSPI, ISS, and Consumer Expenditure Survey. Additionally, the seminar on Biostatistics conducted on 5th March 2024 by Dr. Padam Singh, Chief Statistical Advisor at Medanta Institute of Education and Research, explained how Biostatistics applies statistical methodologies to biological and medical fields, aiding in research and decision-making processes. By attending these seminars, students not only expand their knowledge but also find inspiration and motivation to pursue careers in these fields. Exposure to professionals and real-world applications of statistics enhances their understanding and appreciation of the subject's practical significance. Moreover, these interactions provide students with valuable networking opportunities and potential mentorship avenues, further enriching their educational experience.

One of the key intentions of the Department of Statistics, Kirori Mal College, is to provide opportunities to students that not only help them grow academically but also focus on their personality development. In its pursuit of providing holistic education, the Department actively engages in hosting events and activities that, apart from showcasing their academic caliber, help the students explore talents outside the classroom as well as inculcate important character virtues. The first of many such events were the elections for the Department Union which was organized on 28th August 2023. It helped in instilling a sense of responsibility and decision-making among the participants all while getting to know their peers better. An Intra-Department sports meet was arranged from 1st - 2nd March 2024, where students demonstrated their skills in the games of cricket, volleyball, badminton and football. The event was designed to encourage the students to take a step outside of their study schedule and engage in extracurriculars crucial to their physical as well as mental health. In addition, we have also had cultural events where all three batches participated with utmost enthusiasm. Everyone dressed in ethnicity and got together to put up performances for the professors on Teacher's Day. The senior batches also welcomed the first years with an extravagant Freshers party on 25th September 2023. The Bollywood-themed party had the first years dress up as movie characters to enjoy the music and dance performances put up by the seniors.

PLAYERS - The Theatre Society*Convener : Dr. Shalini Baxi

Founded in 1957 by the late Professor Frank Thakurdas, The Players, the theatre society of Kirori Mal College, has gained a reputation for its sustained commitment to the idea of campus theatre, and for the quality of its plays. This is mainly because our theatre seeks to discover and understand the worlds we inhabit, through methods that combine the rigour of curricular methods with the flexibility of extra-curricular spaces, with conviction and responsibility. Most of our work involves producing short plays in English and Hindi. Workshops, text analysis, scripting, and stage management complement this work. Although we enjoy some advantages over amateur groups (access to rehearsal space and an assured annual budget, for instance), our biggest handicap lies in not having a stable body of actors. Conversely, the true worth of The Players lies in its enabling a succession of students to learn through trial (and error?), and in its being a springboard to their future.

From 5 – 18 October 2023, The Players conducted its annual theatre workshop at the Old Gym for 28 students of Kirori Mal College. The workshop comprised 10 sessions of 4 hours each. Through a focus on timing, rhythm & movement, breath & speech, alertness, voice work, character construction and story-telling, the workshop aimed to sensitize new entrants to the thrill and potentiality of theatre. It also prepared them to comprehend the nature of the work and workspace that lies in the year ahead. Faculty advisors Keval Arora and Shalini Baxi guided the sessions.

On 4 November 2023, The Players, in collaboration with MUSOC, the music society of Kirori Mal College, organized a public performance of theatre and music titled "दो -stalgia". The event was conceived as a 'farewell' showing at an outdoors venue adjoining the college auditorium that was expected to soon become unavailable once the auditorium renovation commenced. The Players presented a stage play, "Cutआक्ष" (an adaptation of Ed Monk's play Cut), and a self-composed street play, "ManMarzi"; while Musoc performed a Hindustani classical choir piece "गरज गरज" and an acapella choral work. Alumni of both The Players and MUSOC attended the event.

On 8 November 2023, The Players was invited by Parivartan, the gender forum of Kirori Mal College, to present its nukkad natak "ManMarzi", and was followed by a discussion with Dr. Latika Vashist (Associate Professor, School of Law, Governance and Citizenship, Dr. B. R. Ambedkar University), who specializes in Criminal Law, Feminist Legal Theory, and Emotions and Law. The event's focus was on the topic of Marital Rape, a sensitive issue concerning the act of forced sexual act with spouse without consent. The inter-twining of performance and discussion was particularly effective for the way in which the subject was viewed through the prisms of emotion and analysis.

On 21 November 21 2023, The Players along with Parivartan hosted a performance by Freeda Theatre and Maara, a media and arts collective, based in Bangalore. Freeda Theatre presented "Nazar ke Samne/Before Your Eyes" to a small group of students and teachers at the Multipurpose Hall, Kirori Mal College. The invitees included representatives from various college theatre societies, along with members of Parivartan and The Players.

"Nazar ke Samne/Before Your Eyes" was a collective expression addressing bodies that have endured caste and sexual violence. The performance delved into elements such as unfulfilled desires, confessions, secrets, and dreams, navigating through the stages of childhood, youth, and womanhood. The actors aimed to prompt thoughtful reflections on identity, freedom, and justice.

"Nazar ke Samne" was crafted from personal experiences, emphasizing a close examination of the body to reveal both the beauty and violence inherent in everyday life. The creative process behind this performance was marked by challenges, considering the social contexts from which the women involved originate. Despite facing crises and backlash, the group was steadfast in its determination to share their stories on their own terms. Their commitment extended to making theatre a space for survivors of violence across different parts of the country.

On 9 & 10 March 2024, The Players' play "Aisa Kehte Hain" was performed at the IHC Amphitheatre, India Habitat Centre (Lodhi Road, New Delhi) as part of the IHC Collegiate Theatre Festival 2024. The shows were open to a ticketed audience. Additionally, the shows were followed by a day-long mentoring session with Lakshvir Singh Saran, an upcoming and talented cinema and TV actor, on 19 March 2024, at Shed 9, Dhan Mill Compound, Chattarpur, New Delhi.

While The Players is constrained to participate in competitions – to not do so would mean curtailing opportunities to showcase our work – we see value not in winning prizes as awarded by judges but in winning the approbation of spectators and audiences. At The Players we aim to continue creating theatre with a full critical consciousness of honesty and responsibility, with valuing fair work processes and procedures as much as the final product, and in creating a work environment that allows opportunity and access to each of its members.

Our present focus is on developing new productions, including a nukkad natak on the theme of Same-Sex Marriage, and an adaptation of Luigi Pirandello's "Six Characters in Search of an Author" with elements incorporated from Mohan Rakesh's play "Aadhe Adhure". We hope to complete these productions by the end of the current semester and to initiate discussions on new plays with the aim of having them ready on time by January 2025. The sooner we once again align with the university calendar, the better it will be. The ongoing support of staff advisors and mentors throughout the next session will be crucial in achieving this objective.

SENSATION - The Dance Society

Staff Advisor : Prof. Roopinder Oberoi

In 2000, Sensation was formally founded as an extracurricular organization with the goal of giving students a platform to celebrate and share their love for dance. It has competed at over 50 institutions (all over India) annually since its founding and has been consistently placed in the top three rankings of the Delhi University dance circuit. Sensation's on-stage dance sequences and montages are renowned for their inventiveness. All of this is only made possible by the students' blood, perspiration, and laborious practice sessions and dedication.

Sensation is divided into two wings: the Western Wing and the Choreography Wing. Both the wings prepare their separate production each year and work on different dance style. The Western Wing focuses on dance styles such as Locking, Popping, Hip-Hop, House, Voguing, etc while the Choreography Wing focuses on the Contemporary, Lyrical, Jazz, and Ballet dance style.

About the Productions

This year, the Choreography Wing of Sensation presented their annual production, MATSARYA, showcasing the captivating tale of two friends bound by their passion for Dance, one mastering the rhythmic art of Hula Hooping, while the other gracefully manipulates with Ribbons. Their synchronized movements weave a story of camaraderie and mutual admiration until envy creeps into the heart of the Ribbon dancer, consumed by the Hula Hooper's rising fame. In a tragic twist, jealousy leads to betrayal as the Ribbon dancer's envy transforms into a heinous act, snuffing out her friend's life. However, the spirit of the Hula Hooper returns from the beyond, haunting her former friend with spectral vengeance. Through ethereal choreography, the ghostly presence enacts the ultimate justice, teaching a poignant lesson on the inexorable workings of karma.

This innovative choreography was unfolded on stage under the visionary guidance of Akshay Bharadwaj, who crafted each sequence with meticulous attention to detail, infusing the performance with raw emotion and powerful choreography. To bring this vision to life, the team chose to incorporate modern contemporary dance as the primary style, recognizing its versatility and ability to convey complex emotions. By seamlessly blending elements of Hula Hoop and Ribbon dance with contemporary movement techniques, we ensured that the choreography would be both visually stunning and emotionally resonant.

This year, the Western Wing of Sensation presented their captivating dance production, showcasing the rich tapestry of street dance styles that resonate deeply with Delhi's Dance Circuit. With a fusion of a decade-long experience, the performance was not just a display of skills but also a heartfelt tribute to the vibrant street dance culture.

The piece of styles alone was a powerful testament to the commitment and passion of The Dance Society of Kirori Mal College -SENSATION in the truest of its spirits. As they promise to return with even more vigor, style, and energy, there's no doubt that they have been designated as one of the teams with the mightiest roots, standing out as a team, not just in terms of their foundations, but also the authenticity of the styles they've tapped into such as Breaking, Krump, Hip-Hop, Locking, waacking with a dash of Voguing, Litefeet, etc.

This year's production, under the guidance of Mr. Vinay Kumar aka Vikki, stood out as the team genuinely chose to be stuck with the world of street dance, bringing to light its essence, power, and undeniable charm to the forefront of the Delhi Dance Scene.

THE BOOK CLUB

Convenor : Mr. Ajay Rajan Singh

The Book Club of the college serves as a vibrant intellectual community that is dedicated to fostering a love for literature and reading. The club values inclusivity and is open to all departments, open-mindedness, and respectful dialogue. Its focus areas span across genres, from classic literature to contemporary works, reflecting the varied interests of its members. Through book discussions, the club encourages the members to explore complex themes, express their thoughts, and enrich their scholarly discourse. The club plays an important part in enhancing the creative and cultural fabric of the college by nurturing a passion for reading and learning.

The Book Club held its first-ever book discussion on 3rd November 2023 where students and teachers alike came together to share their views on 'The Great Gatsby' by F. Scott Fitzgerald. Two of the club members facilitated the book discussion, while several others contributed their thoughts and analyses of the text. The themes of the book were critically analysed, and topics such as "the Jazz Age," "the American Dream," and "Old Money vs. New Money" were carefully considered. The book's main characters, Jay Gatsby, and Daisy and Tom Buchanan, were brought up and their motivations and actions were thoroughly examined. The discussion revealed the underlying themes of moral depravity and the emptiness of materialistic pursuits from the characters. The experience of sitting with fellow book lovers and talking about a shared book was both enjoyable and insightful. The discussion proved that having a community of peers who enjoy reading as much as one does is essential to the cultural diversity of the college and crucial in developing a habit of reading among students. Besides reading, discussions like these also motivate students by providing a safe space for them to speak up and share their opinions without judgment. Student members were also encouraged to write their own reviews of the book, which went on the official Instagram page of the club. Overall, the book discussion proved to be an experience that was both intellectually and culturally enriching for the members.

The Book Club held its next book discussion on 28th February 2024, where the topic of discussion was 'The Metamorphosis' by Franz Kafka. The discussion started off with Kafka's life and his unique style of writing termed 'kafkaesque'. Topics such as forced isolation and existentialism came up, and their relevance with the text and in contemporary life was discussed. The book's unfortunate main character, Gregor Samsa, who one day wakes up to find himself transformed into a giant insect, was analysed and sympathised with. Gregor's family's actions were talked about and topics like dehumanization, guilt, and responsibility were delved into. The question of 'why is the book called The Metamorphosis' was talked about and everyone gave their own unique answers. Members shared their unique views on the book and the themes and came up with real-life examples that held up with the issues discussed in the book. The discussion proved to be an eye-opening experience for the members as they got to explore a literary classic like 'The Metamorphosis' itself.

The Book Club was started in October 2023 and since then it has successfully managed to create a community of students who share a passion for reading. The club has created a safe space for bibliophiles, and budding new readers alike who get a chance to share their love for literature in their pursuit of academia. Since it came into existence, the club has held two book discussions that were rich in scholarly discourse. The club also plans to expand its horizons by starting a blog to give its members a creative outlet for their love of literature and it also plans to enrich its discussions by introducing new interactive activities. The plans for the club's future give confidence in its ever-growing presence and the role it plays in the diverse and cultural background of the college. The efforts of the founding members and every other member combined have helped the club set foot among the numerous other clubs and societies in the college.

INTERNAL QUALITY ASSURANCE CELL (IQAC)

Convener : Dr. S.P. Tripathi

In pursuance of its Action Plan for performance evaluation, assessment and accreditation and quality up-gradation of institutions of higher education, the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC), Bangalore proposes that every accredited institution should establish an Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) as a post-accreditation quality sustenance measure. Since quality enhancement is a continuous process, the IQAC will become a part of the institution's system and work towards realization of the goals of quality enhancement and sustenance. The prime task of the IQAC is to develop a system for conscious, consistent and catalytic improvement in the overall performance of institutions. For this, during the post-accreditation period, it will channelize all efforts and measures of the institution towards promoting its holistic academic excellence.

The work of the IQAC is the first step towards internalization and institutionalization of quality enhancement initiatives. Its success depends upon the sense of belongingness and participation it can inculcate in all the constituents of the institution. It will not be yet another hierarchical structure or a record-keeping exercise in the institution. It will be a facilitative and participative voluntary system/ unit/ organ of the institution. It has the potential to become a vehicle for ushering in quality enhancement by working out planned interventionist strategies to remove deficiencies and enhance quality like the "Quality Circles" in industries.

PORTAL COMMITTEE

Convener : Dr. S.P. Tripathi

The Portal Committee of Kirori Mal College, under the convenorship of Dr. S. P. Tripathi, along with his team of 19 dedicated members, has accomplished significant milestones in the academic year 2023-24. The committee spearheaded the development of a new college website, characterized by elegant design and informative features. Notably, the introduction of the Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) system, a first-time endeavor for the college, has revolutionized operations and propelled the institution towards digitization of all its activities and facilities. The visibility of the college to its Alumni, and general public has improved a lot, which is reflected in the large number of hits the new college website receives every day. Previously unutilized, the ERP system has become instrumental in streamlining various college modules, including Faculty Profile, Attendance, Internal Assessment (IA) & Continuous Assessment (CA), and separate profiles each for its faculty members and students. Moreover, the introduction of an Admin Module, Alumni Database, and Research Project Repository has facilitated ease of access and increased work efficiency across departments.

The portal committee's future plans include the implementation of modules under ERP such as APAR, Time Table Management, content sharing, leave management, and more. Furthermore, the committee envisions launching a mobile app for seamless access to all modules and information on mobile phones. The Portal Committee's relentless efforts have significantly contributed to the digital transformation and advancement of Kirori Mal College.
